HI SCHOOL HI LIGHTS

This afternoon 32 girls went to Jordan high to a play day. There are baseball, basket ball, volley ball and horseshoe teams. Muriel Barnes, Betty Jane Ripple, Norma Rappaport and Ethel Ward were the luckiest ones and they are playing horseshoes.

Rudolph, Marjorie, Oliver Bell and C. E. Huber went with their parents Sunday to Lake Elsinore and spent their time watching the boat races.

Last evening, Mildred Holland entertained the Gloom Chasers at her home. They spent a quiet evening sewing. Mrs. Holland served refreshments after the old maids finished their sewing.

Ralph Sach and his mother were the host and hostess to the Young Peoples' Circle of the Evangelical church on Tuesday night. All the young people brought their mothers, who were the honored guests.

Sunday evening the Epworth League of the Methodist church divided into two groups, the high school group, and the adult group. Robert Leasing was elected president for the older ones and Stanley Creighton for the high school group.

Francis Granger is a good maker of gingerbread, and Mr. Young can sure cook the fish, but as an ice cream disher, Leonard Babcock would do better as a nursemaid. Considering all, everything tasted good and the food was all served in due time at a fish dinner at Redondo Sunday. The picnicers were Ruth, Francis, and Mrs. Granger, John and Mr. and Mrs. Young, Evangeline and Carl Cummings, Dorothy Eshom, Muriel Bell, and Leonard Babcock.

The boat races at Lake Elsinore and a fast ride of an hour and a half also lured Ralph Daugherty and his brother Harold there Sunday.

The Schumann waffle party was finally a success when the cooks got their heads together and decided they couldn't cook waffles on cold irons. They finally went to Young's home and cooked the waffles while the guests waited rather hungrily at the school. When their teeth did sink into one of those gingerbread waffles they decided it was well worth the waiting.

After the waffle party eight girls spent a sleepless night at a slumber party at Loma Kizer's home. Mary Hinman and Ethel Ward were the only ones that had any sleep, which is customary. If it hadn't been for Bessie Cooper the scrambled eggs would have been hard boiled. The sleepers were Oma Beckwith, Mary Hinman, Jo See, Ethel Ward, Bessie Cooper, Mildred Holland, Dot Chandler and Loma Kizer, the hostess.

Being fish day, Stanley Sach, Allen Renn, Bob Atchenson, Jack Shinn, Carl Qualyo and Albert Curler spent most of Friday night on the Olympic Barge fishing. They came home with a "big fish" story.

On Sunday, Grace Buck, Lola Cokley, Bertha Hinman, Harold Cook, Roy McReynolds, and Johnny Kolesar, went to Orange County Park for an all day picnic. They must have had a tiring day, because they took along baseball and bat, golf clubs and tennis rackets; what's more they said they used them all.

Reception To Senior Classes

Alpha Chi class of young ladies of the Methodist church will entertain the Summer and Winter senior classes of Torrance High school at a reception tomorrow evening in the new educational unit of the church.

The affair will begin at 8 o'clock, and over 100 people are expected to attend the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. John Young, and Miss Ethel Burnham will be honored guests.

Decorations will be in the Japanese motif, with attractive lanterns and decoration throughout the spacious rooms.
